The median annual revenue of IPO companies in 2013 remains well below the 2012 level, in part due to the high percentage of life sciences companies going public. Median annual revenue decreased 39%, from $133.6 million in 2012 to $81.7 million in the first three quarters of 2013, representing the lowest level since the $74.5 million median in 2007. Life sciences IPO companies in the first three quarters of the year had median annual revenue of just $10.6 million. EGCs completing IPOs had median annual revenue of $53.7 million, compared to $2.36 billion for other companies. The percentage of profitable companies going public declined from 55% in 2012 to 42% in the first three quarters of 2013—the lowest level since the 26% in both 1999 and 2000. With investor focus shifting to growth over profitability,
